2024 COACH COMMENT

Baylor will be all over the field this Spring. He'll be on the JV level in the outfield, infield and on the mound. Hitting his growth spurt should give Baylor a little more power and leverage. Could be a break out year?

2023 COACH COMMENT

Baylor will primarily play the outfield at the sophomore level this season although very capable on the infield dirt and on the mound. Will probably hit toward the top of the order due to his high contact percentage and above average running speed among his freshmen peers. Much upside in future years is to be expected.
